What will History Say?

To the ambitious it is doubtless a matter of infinite concern, both to enjoy temporal fame and to be assured of future renown. In what estimation men now living will hereafter be held, or how their acts will be regarded by posterity, none can precisely tell. "History will speak of him with praise," "the future annalist will mention this great name with reverence," "posterity will do homage to the wisdom of the present age," are forms of expression which often find a place in that magniloquent style of composition that now so greatly abounds. To these panegyrists who extol whatever belongs to the present, and bespeak for it the favorable judgment of the future, observation ought long ago to have shown that, while the task of writing the history of any era which is distinguished by great events, does not belong to itself, but to the future, those also, who shall hereafter study the spirit and temper of these times, will put their own estimate upon the character of the men who are now candidates for fame, and will settle by their own rules the pretensions to greatness that are claimed for the leading actors of the present day.

The history of any distinct period of time is seldom justly written by those who are witnesses of, and participants in, the events that are narrated. The historian must of necessity look with more or less of partiality upon those occurrences in the issue of which he himself has had an interest; and on the other hand, he must regard with equal disfavor, and will be extremely apt to relate with equal bias, whatever he opposed and endeavored to avert.

When any great commotion arises, they who witness it know not how it will terminate. At such times men know not precisely what they are aiming at. Future results cannot be foreseen, nor can the object of present action always be definitely ascertained. The actor of the present day is groping in darkness; he does not even know the ends to be sought or attained; while his critic, the future historian, possessing full knowledge both of causes and results, will give judgment with precision upon subjects fully known to himself, but which were not at all known to those whose history he is relating.

All those who live in times when great events are transpiring, know how liable they are to misunderstand the true nature of existing things, and are aware that the tendency is to become absorbed in a single idea, often to the exclusion of propriety and reason. While men catch the inspiration of the times, they also become possessed of an ardent enthusiasm, which, when it passes proper bounds, misleads the mind. On such occasions there can be no correct judgment, and one will be better qualified to pass an opinion upon those matters of which he has acquired a knowledge by reading and study, than upon those which have met his observation while he was an interested witness. This man may really know less of events of which he has been a biased observer, than of those of which he has gained a knowledge by research and reason. In the one case his knowledge is shaded by the color of prejudice or interest; in the other it is free from all influence of partiality.

So, if men cannot rightly understand the state of their own times, they are incompetent to write such a history thereon as shall, in after years, be deemed impartial and just. Nor can they with more accuracy predict what the future historian will say when he comes to write the annals of times long past—when he comes to analyze the motives of men, and, with a searching and impartial investigation, proceed to ascertain and explain the secret cause of things whose origin and end now elude the utmost effort of the understanding, and which will become explicable only when they have reached their natural issue. Until that time, assertions as to the verdict history will render, will be altogether vain. They alone who deserve it will be held in honorable estimation by posterity; nor will their merit depend altogether upon the laudatory predictions of future glory, which, at the present day, are very apt to emanate from the admiring friends of those who hope to acquire lasting honors; but it will rest rather upon the decision which the future will give in reference to the character and actions of those who aspire to stand in the temple of fame.

The style of writing to which this article alludes, now so prevalent among journalists and correspondents, needs to be reformed. Such writers may assure themselves that history in making up its verdict, will not follow their dictation. Assertions relative to the decision history will render, must generally end in conjecture, where they begin. The judgment of the future will pronounce upon the acts of men now living, is not to be forestalled by the prophetic declarations of the friends of rising heroes for whom are bespoken titles of renown.

In the Legislature of the Sandwich Islands an effort was lately made to repeal the act prohibiting selling liquor to the native Hawaiians, which failed to pass and the prohibition still exists. It seems that intoxicating liquors were being used to excess, and the islands were fast depopulating; and since the passage of this act the improvement in the condition of the natives has been marked, and the King would have vetoed any act repealing it.

W. R. PARK.—We saw some time since in the California papers that W. R. Park, who was accidently shot last fall, near Boise City, at the time when the overland stage was robbed, had since died, but as we saw no notice of his death in the Idaho papers, we considered it a wrong report. We learn from men lately from there that Mr. Park did die from the effects of the wound. He had been for a while sheriff of Baker county, and was on his way to his home in the States at the time of the accident that resulted in his death.

OVERLAND LINE AND THE INDIANS.—It is strange that while the Indians have often interrupted the travel and mails on the overland route, they never meddle with the wires. The operators have frequently given the savages proof of the power of electricity, and a shock now and then has convinced them that the telegraph is something supernatural, which is the only way to account for their never meddling with the wires, when they could so easily destroy their efficiency.

Common Schools of Multnomah County—Permanent Teachers.

Persons familiar with the operation of schools have noticed that a change of teachers produces a change in the course of studies. Very often the new teacher puts the pupil back to the beginning of every book which he is studying. The Grammar classes begin the Grammar again, the Geography, Arithmetic, Reading and Spelling classes do the same. If teachers are changed every six months this putting back occurs as often. If the school is kept only three months, the new teacher begins where the old one did, and advances but little farther. Some children are annoyed and discouraged by this process; others like it because it gives them a very easy time. Parents know not why their children make so little progress from term to term; yet teachers, knowing little or nothing of their new pupils, can do no better. For instance, if a teacher should call up a boy or girl of twelve years, and on inquiry, find that he or she had ciphered to fractions, and conclude to let the child begin at fractions, but after trial find that the child do not know how to divide or multiply readily, he would naturally suppose him deficient in addition or subtraction, and numeration and notation. His only remedy of course would be to have the boy or the girl begin the book. If a child proposes to parse a simple sentence, and yet fails to give the parts of speech correctly, the new teacher concludes at once that he needs to be drilled in the elements of grammar, and so puts him back. The teacher cannot know in what, or to what extent a child is deficient. His plan of review must therefore be general, but his term closes before he has done much more than review what his predecessor had done, and what his successor will do.

Hence teachers, hired for a single term, or two terms, are comparatively of but little use to a school. In this time they become fairly acquainted with the minds and standing, or advancement of their pupils, and thus well prepared to carry them forward, to direct their view of needed points, or rules or sections, and to assist them in what they are deficient.

To illustrate the subject, let the school at East Portland be continued a year under the efficient instruction of Mr. Garlick, the present teacher, and all the pupils will be well advanced in their several studies, and they will be thorough. But if the people let Mr. Garlick go, and hire a new teacher—say after three months vacation—their children, a year from this time, will not be much in advance of their present standing, or of that which they will attain during the present quarter. The same remarks are true of the school in District No. 2—that which includes Brooklyn. If the directors can possibly secure the continued service of the present excellent teacher, Mr. McLeran, it will be of great advantage to their children.

One reason why our city grade school and our subscription schools and academies are superior, is in the fact that the teachers seldom change, or are changed. The teachers know their pupils. The first and second terms give them the opportunity to find the mental culture of every child, and after that they can direct the studies, or afford the help which every child needs. Unless the teacher has this knowledge he cannot adapt himself to the pupil.

Parents may and they do complain that the teachers do very little good; while they themselves are in fault, because they will not give them time to produce desirable results. If you hire a man to till your farm, and tell him that he must do it in three months and bring you the proceeds, he will very naturally object to the requirement, and say that crops cannot be raised in three months. But how much more unreasonable it would be for you to reply: Sir, I have only money enough to hire you for three months. If you have a mind to work for that time on my terms it is well; otherwise I will find a man who will. There's the land, sir—It is part unbroken prairie, part hazel brush and part thick woods. It is unfenced, sir; but that's my farm, and if you have a mind to take it and bring me the crop in three months, you can have the job.

Equally absurd is it to require a teacher to put a wild school into good, productive order and gather the mental harvest in three months.

But it is objected that we cannot afford a nine or ten months school per annum. Yet you expend one, two, and even five thousand dollars upon your wild land, and hardly make a show of a farm at that. Besides if a district like East Portland will tax itself to keep a school ten months in every year, and to add another room for the increasing number of pupils, the population will increase, the lots and farms will rise in value far above their cost. A graded school conducted by permanent teachers, is the best investment which any district can make for itself.

Another advantage in having permanent teachers is, that teaching thus becomes a profession, honorable as it is useful. If candidates for this service understand that they will be wanted permanently in a school, they will prepare themselves for it and give themselves to it, and we shall have a less and less number who want to teach a few months to get a little money in order to go into some other business.

It is to be hoped that the district directors in our county will, so far as possible employ their old teachers, and hire them for a longer time. It is also to be hoped that the people will vote to tax themselves in every district, as one of the best means to promote the improvement of their children, and also to advance their own pecuniary interests.

G. H. ATKINSON,
Supt. of Schools.

THE NEW WOOLEN FACTORY.—When we were at Oregon City a few days since, we went with Mr. S. E. Pratt, Superintendent, to view the new building in process of completion for the Oregon City Woolen Mills. This is altogether the handsomest and most substantial structure in the State, the foundations being laid from a broad base that insures it against danger from the occasional floods that sweep down the Willamette. All this is of solid masonry and hewn stone, while the superstructure is a heavy wall of best quality of brick. In the lower part will be the scouring, fulling and finishing rooms. On the next floor will be the weaving and dressing rooms, and in the upper floor and attic will be the machinery for carding and spinning. The building is one hundred and ninety feet long by fifty feet wide, and Mr. Pratt has not long since returned from the East, where he has purchased the latest and best machinery, with many modern improvements that have come into use since the Salem Mills were erected, thus doing away with the cumbersome tenter bars and dry houses, and improving the old method of fulling cloth. It is hoped that the machinery will arrive early in the spring, and that the mills will commence operations before the first of July. A projection of fifty feet from the center of the main building will be erected the coming season, and, when finished and in operation, the Oregon City Woolen Mills will be the most creditable institution in the State of its kind, and quite an object of pride to Oregon, and especially to the enterprise of Oregon City, whose great future will in time be determined by just such works, that the illimitable water power invites the erection of at that place.

INDIANS ATTACK THE OVERLAND ROUTE.—We have never before received the following item of telegraphic dispatches, which we find in the California papers, and which explains the condition of the overland route at this time:

JULESBURG, Colorado Territory, Jan. 9.—On Saturday morning a party of Indians attacked the Overland Mail and Express coach three miles east of here, robbed the mail and express, and also attacked a mule train, killing one man and wounding another. The troops at the military post here, numbering from fifty to eighty men, were immediately started to the relief of the white settlers in the vicinity, and drove the Indians to the bluffs, a mile back, where the Indians were reinforced to 1,500, and in turn drove the troops back to the post. The Indians then entered the stage station in large numbers, and after destroying all the furniture and breaking all windows in the buildings, set them on fire; they also destroyed a large amount of telegraph material. A well-directed volley of musketry from our troops at the post soon drove them from the station. In the running fight on the retreat of our troops, 35 Indians were killed, including the principal chief, and 12 soldiers and citizens were killed. A general massacre and destruction of the whites was only prevented by the perseverance and bravery of our troops and an efficient artillery fire. The Indians retired in a southerly direction. This is by far the most determined incursion yet made by the Indians.

DATES TO JANUARY 25.

Depredations of the Pirate Shenandoah.

FORTRESS MONROE, Jan. 25.—The bark Wilton from Pernambuco [illegible] report the pirate Shenandoah destroyed [illegible] merchantmen along the coast [illegible] which vessels bound to [illegible] States were [illegible] British [illegible] to sail under British [illegible].

Great Fire at Buffalo.

The American Hotel caught fire this morning. The weather was intensely cold, preventing the firemen from working to any extent. One of the [illegible] on Main street near the hotel was blown up by order of the Mayor. This partly arrested the fire. It is thought it will extend to Pearl street. The loss is estimated at over half a million.

From Havana.

The new Consul General of the Mexican Government for the Island of Cuba has demanded the archives of the Consulate of the old Consul, who refused to deliver them up, insisting that his Government was still in existence.

The steamer Rose of Lake, lately called the Lavaca, was destroyed by fire at Havana on January 15th.

A report has been received at Havana from Key West that the blockade runner Deliolo, one of the most successful of the fleet, has been captured and taken into that port.

The Confederate [illegible] steamer left Havana January 1st. It is generally regarded that she was to become a rebel pirate.

Peace Rumors.

The Herald's Washington special says the city is filled with peace rumors. The correspondent states a member of Jeff Davis' Cabinet makes a direct proposition to Blair while in Richmond, to the effect that if the rebel Government give up the contest, would the United States Government forego emancipation, confiscation and permit them to dispose of their cotton and leave the country for Mexico with the understanding that no obstacle should be placed in the way of private soldiers of the Southern Army, at least all who may desire to follow their leaders into the country; if that would be consented to, if they would bind themselves to drive the French out of Mexico, assume full control of the Government, and if necessary pledge its ultimate annexation to the United States?

Blair stated in reply that the North would not in any contingency abandon the idea of emancipation, but our Government was willing to be merciful so far as confiscation was concerned.

From Rebel Papers.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The Richmond Dispatch Jan. 23d, contains the following: It was reported yesterday that Gen. Price had captured Fort Smith, Ark., with a garrison of 2,000 men. The report is not officially confirmed.

J. A. Seddon has resigned the portfolio of the rebel War Department.

Blair, Sr., Peace Commissioner, has returned to this city (Richmond). Nothing has transpired as to the object of his mission, but of course it has reference to peace negotiations, and this has grown out of his former visit. He is the guest of Captain Patch, at the residence of the latter.

H. S. Foote left this city (Richmond) yesterday, by the Petersburg train, en route for Prince George.

The Richmond Enquirer says: It is thought that the present Cabinet has pretty nearly exhausted its intellectual resources without achieving a very brilliant illumination, a bringing individual fame, and a new set, with fresh ideas, and wide awake characteristics, is especially desirable at the present time.

Anglo blockade-runners have already been informed of the fall of Fort Fisher, one having run the blockade and made her escape out again the night before the evacuation of Fort Caswell.

A Wilmington, North Carolina, letter says of the operations in the vicinity that a fierce combat is yet to come. The Yankees elated with success will attempt to beat back our troops. With reinforcements continually arriving and the position our lines have assumed, we trust his next effort will be a futile one. Both armies are fortifying in their respective positions, and hot work may be looked for at any time.

The Raleigh Progress of the 20th says:

Persons who left Wilmington on the 18th say the rebel forces had fallen back to within eight miles of the city. Gen. Terry had demanded the surrender of the city, giving Bragg until the 19th to answer. The removal of public property is going on as fast as possible; we doubt not that every preparation is making to fall back. Persons from there say all is confusion at Wilmington. The general impression was that the place would go, and that most of the people would remain.

The Times special says the Richmond papers substantially confess the evacuation of Wilmington, and Gen. Terry is beyond doubt now in possession of the city.

The Augusta Constitutionalist says the city is filled with fugitives from South Carolina, from which it appears a panic had seized on the people of that State on the approach of the Union army, and they were ready to leave everything to save their lives.

Advance on Wilmington.

NEW YORK, Jan. 24.—The Herald's Fort Fisher correspondence, of the 20th, says: Paine went out again yesterday in force to reconnoitre the position of the enemy. He found them as before in force about two miles from our extreme line, and after a severe skirmish, in which he succeeded in capturing 20 prisoners, Gen. Paine retired.

Yesterday as the dispatch boat was proceeding up the river to a point further than ever had been reached before, she was opened on by guns from Fort St. Philip, on the south side of the river. Several shots were fired, some of which took effect.

From Charleston and Savannah.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—Letters of Jan. 17th, from Charleston harbor, say three rebel iron clads are distinctly visible at the mouth of Cooper river, while a large number of men are busy about the forts. Deserters also report that the rebels have torpedo boats ready for service, and will make a fight in case of an attempt on our part to get up to the city. They are putting new obstructions in the harbor. Our boats have lately been quite successful in finding and removing them.

It is reported that seventy vessels hitherto engaged in the Wilmington blockade, will be sent to increase the blockade off Charleston, Galveston and other points.

A Savannah correspondent, of the 18th, says: Sherman is still there, but his army is resting on its well-earned laurels, and is very busy refitting for another march.

Miscellaneous.

LOUISVILLE, Jan. 25.—The authorities are advised that Munday's gang, this evening, killed at Simpsonville 30 negroes, who were in charge of 1,000 head of Government cattle. No particulars.

Private letters say that the proposition of the rebels to make St. Marks, Fla., a blockade running port will not succeed, as Lieut. Rockwell has three vessels there which are able to put a stop to all such operations.

Advices from the Shenandoah valley state that a small body of rebels had made their appearance below Woodstock.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The Herald editorially says the probabilities are that Seward will have the mission to England.

The Tribune's special dispatch says the indications point strongly in that direction.

Rebel Fleet Attacks City Point.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—The Star says dispatches received here state that yesterday morning, the 24th, at 2 o'clock, the rebel fleet of five vessels, the Richmond squadron, which was so long in preparation, came down the river to destroy our depots and works at City Point. The high water caused by the freshet enabled them to pass the obstructions, which had been placed above City Point for the better protection of the place. A battle quickly ensued between the rebel fleet and our nearest batteries, in which one of the vessels was blown up and instantly and entirely destroyed, while two others were so badly damaged by shot and shell as to compel them to seek safety in speedy flight in the direction of Richmond, accompanied by the other two, which escaped damage. Admiral Porter left here yesterday morning for the scene of action. It is understood that he will at once assume naval command there.

The Times' City Point correspondent telegraphs that the idea at headquarters concerning the rebel iron-clad demonstration on the James river, was to create an excitement to cover the evacuation of Richmond. Evidence accumulates daily that the rebel leaders would like to get out of that city.

The Herald's City Point despatch says: There are four rebel iron-clads. One was entirely destroyed and another disabled. The other two were aground and were being fired into by our batteries, each shot from Fort Parsons striking them fairly.

From Mexico.

NEW YORK, Jan. 25.—The steamer Eagle from Havana with dates to the 21st has arrived.

News had been received from Mexico that Gen. D'Hurbal had made a reconnoissance to Oaxaca, where he was fired upon when he fell back to Etta to organize an attack on the place, which was to be made on the 22th. It is said that Porfirio Diaz has a force of 8,000 men and 65 pieces of artillery. It was believed in Havana that his force was better provided than any of the liberal armies. The old mint at Oaxaca is working night and day coining gold and silver brought there by the churches [illegible].

California News.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—Gold opened yesterday at 205, advancing to 206½ 207, and opening this morning at later quotations. Greenbacks opened 48 a 49, closing at 49½ 49½.

Provost Marshal General Mason has ordered that in all cases civil officers shall be allowed to serve subpoenas on soldiers, and that the commanding officer shall take steps to insure their compliance with the mandates of the Court.

A committee was appointed last evening to prepare a plan of operations for Gen. Sickles' reception.

The residents and natives of Australia celebrate the anniversary of the foundation of those colonies by a banquet to-night.

The Chinese are celebrating their New Year in their usual style. About 20 Chinamen were arrested last evening for firing crackers. They forfeited $5 each.

Hardware dealers have formed a combination to advance the jobbing prices of nails from $3 75 to $6 per keg. At last advices from New York, they were quoted at $10 currency.

Demand for fine whiskies continues chiefly on speculation. Old Bourbon and common grades daily advancing.

Coal oil is held firmly at sixty-five and seventy cents.

The survivors of the wreck of the ship Sir John Franklin arrived in this city at the Sailor's Home last night.

The French consul in this city disclaims any official knowledge of the cession of North-western Mexico to France, and of Gwin's appointment as Governor General.

CADET GRAY.—General Scott, in his autobiography, gives the following account of the origin of the cloth known as "cadet gray," and worn by the cadets at West Point:

When Scott was seen approaching the bridge, Gen. Riall, the British commander, who had dispersed twice his numbers the winter before, in his expedition on the American side, said: "It is nothing but a body of Buffalo militia." But when the bridge was passed in fine style, under his heavy fire of artillery, he added, with an oath—"Why, these are regulars!" The gray coats at first deceived him, which Scott was obliged to accept, there being no blue cloth in the country. In compliment to the battle of Chippewa, our military cadets have worn gray coats ever since.

The leading Democrats of New Jersey seem inclined to turn a cold shoulder to McClellan, and will probably refuse to send him to the United States Senate, after all their blarney. They favor John P. Stockton. John is a wild youth, scarcely old enough to be eligible, but flippant, brassy, vain, and highly ornate and bombastic in speech. He stood up on a chair at Chicago, and fought for the honor of nominating, "Sir-r-r as the next Pr-r-resident of the United States, Geor-r-rge Behe Mac-k-lellan!" He is less magnanimous now.

BALLOONING.—The Philadelphia Inquirer has the following:

The greatest literary novelty of any age transpired the other day. Elmer Brian Coates made a balloon ascension, with Professor Low, in the Quaker City. While in the sky he wrote a poem of one hundred lines, entitled a "Balloon Poem." This is something heretofore unattempted by any literary gentleman.

Alexander Dumas, the French romancier, the dark mulatto nearly sixty years of age, yet called the handsomest man in Europe, left Paris last month for New York. Dumas would have visited the United States before this late day, but dare not under Democratic Administrations for fear of being arrested and sold as a "fugitive from justice."

MEETING OF THE COMMON COUNCIL.—The regular weekly meeting of the Common Council was held at the Council Chamber at seven o'clock last evening.

Mayor Failing occupied the Chair.

The following members were present—Councilmen Bennett, Cook, Frazar, Gradon, Gilmore, Hoffman, Robertson. Absent—Messrs. McCraken and Starr.

The records of the previous meeting were read by the Clerk and approved by the Council.

On petition of proprietors of Schillar Hall license to retail liquors for the remainder of the present quarter, was granted.

A communication from the City Attorney, relative to the city surveys, and boundaries of the streets, containing a legal opinion thereon, was received, and on motion of Mr. Frazar ordered to be placed on file.

The committee on accounts and current expenses reported favorably on the bill of O. Risley of long standing for rent of the small pox hospital in 1862, and a warrant was ordered to be drawn on the appropriate fund for the amount of $120.

The same committee reported favorably on the following claims, which were similarly ordered: Milwaine & Morse, $25; N. Northrup, services as Street Commissioner, $225.

Account of Jas. W. Going, services as city assessor, referred to committee on accounts and current expenses.

The following claims, connected with street improvements, prior to 1865, were audited: Harbaugh & Stitzel, for lumber, $93 85; N. Northrup, Commissioner, $33; J. Sopel, hauling stone and sand, $9 25. Account of Estes & Stimson, for lumber furnished, $12 87, deferred.

The following claims, connected with the fire department, prior to 1865, were audited: Aggregate amount due Companies, for contingent expenses, $1,035; Joseph Teal, rent of engine room for No. 3, $20; C. H. Myers, plumbing and fitting $424 33; Jos. Tucker, work on cisterns, $21.

The following were also audited, which finally comprises all bills matured for the past year: S. E. May, for transcript copy of the city charter, $30; Weil Bros., rent of Council Chamber and Recorder's office, $32.

Mr. Starr submitted an ordinance providing for the collection of delinquent taxes, which passed the second reading.

Mr. Frazar submitted an ordinance providing for the revision, codifying and publication of city ordinances, which passed the second reading.

Mr. Hoffman submitted an ordinance to establish a base line, and regulate the city surveys, which passed the second reading.

An ordinance was read a third time fixing the salary of the Chief Engineer, and passed, ayes 6, nays 0. The salary is fixed at $300 per annum.

On motion Council adjourned.

THE SKATING.—Yesterday morning's snow interfered with the skating somewhat, but during the day it was swept off the Lake for a considerable space, and lovers of such rare sport, both ladies and gentlemen, participated to as great an extent as was practicable. The amusement seems to increase, as the desire is heightened for its enjoyment, and if the weather permits there will be a fine course kept open for to-day, and a prize (a handsome pair of skates,) awarded to the best lady skater, at two o'clock P. M., for which the ladies are invited to contest. Among the gentlemen whom were most efficient in rendering the Lake suitable for skating yesterday was Mr. Harry Olmstead, and to him the participants were particularly indebted, for their privileges to enjoy the clear ice. The sweep erected by Mr. Harbaugh proved to be of great utility in raising the risibilities. There is some talk of a general tournament of skaters, while the ice lasts, which we should like to see very much. Parties who were unable to attend during the day, were there skating last evening by the light of bon-fires.

WATER.—We were about to give up the hope of procuring water to run our steam engine with yesterday, upon learning that the tank above the boiler was dry, and knowing that the supply did not reach us from the city water works, but thanks to Foreman Young of Columbian Engine Company No. 3, when we applied to him for assistance, the hose of his company were brought into use, and attached to the Fire Plug, corner of Washington and First streets, which conducted the water 300 feet, and give us a sufficient quantity to last, it is hoped, until the water company can be relieved from the unpleasant dilemma they were placed in by the freeze up.

ECLIPSES OF THE YEAR.—During the year 1865 there will be four eclipses, two of the sun and two of the moon: There will be a partial eclipse of the moon on the 10th of April, visible at Portland, in size about one-fifth of the moon's diameter. It begins and ends in the evening, at 7.40 and 9.26. Total eclipse of the sun April 25th, invisible in the United States. A partial eclipse of the moon October 4th, invisible at Portland, the eclipse being over before the moon rises. An annular eclipse of the sun, October 19th, visible at Portland in the morning. The beginning will not be seen here, as the sun will rise eclipsed, the digits being 10 on the northern limb, will end at 7.40 A. M. Venus will be evening star until May 6th, and will be the brightest April 1st.

LOSS OF THE IWANOWNA.—We published an account of the loss of the old bark Iwanowna, yesterday, which lately turned turtle on the northern coast. It will be remembered that this vessel experienced great difficulty to reach our port, with a cargo of salt from Mexico about one year ago, and finally arrived in March, under command of Captain Brown, after she had cruised about for several months and put into San Francisco, where the officers were changed. Capt. Brown left this section with her on the 21st of March, and upon arriving again in San Francisco delivered her over to her owners.

DEATH OF AN OREGONIAN IN MONTANA.—Letters received from Montana Territory give the death of Charles Stewart, at Virginia City, after a short illness with inflammatory rheumatism. Mr. Stewart formerly resided in Portland. The Theatre here was built by him, and he will be remembered by many as having loved a fine horse and been at one time considered as of some influence and importance in our city affairs.

SNOW.—Yesterday morning at eight o'clock the fleecy white flakes of snow began to descend upon us, and in a short time the earth was covered with a mantle, clear and beautiful. There was not enough to give pleasure in sleigh riding, however, and in the course of an hour or two the vehicles had it pulverized and mixed with the soil, so as to make it scarcely distinguishable. The weather continued dry and cold, with every prospect of a moderation and rain shower.

FOR ASTORIA.—The steamer Cascade, Captain VanBurgen, left this city at 2 o'clock P. M. yesterday, with 2,200 boxes of apples, 1,200 sacks of flour, and other freight for the California steamer. Wells, Fargo & Co. shipped $100,000 in treasure by the same, which include the sum for the regular trip. We have no account of the number of passengers leaving yesterday.

STEAMBOATING.—The steamer Vancouver, Capt. Turnbull, made her usual trip to the Washington Territory side of the Columbia river, with passengers and mails, touching at a point about four miles below Vancouver, yesterday. Returning arrived at her wharf at 2 P. M. The boats of the O. S. N. Company, on the Willamette, are still making their regular trips uninterruptedly, but are threatened with a low stage of water.

ANOTHER QUARTZ MILL.—Messrs. Combs and Spear left for San Francisco yesterday, for the purpose of purchasing another quartz mill of ten stamps for the Boise country. The mill lately put up by them, is employed on another contract for crushing rock on the same quartz ledge, which calls for another mill on an adjoining lode.

LAID UP.—The steamer John H. Couch was laid for repairs on Wednesday. Her place in the Astoria line will be supplied by the steamer Cascade. Capt. Van Burgen and the other officers of the Couch continue on board of the new boat.

TROTTING.—The trotting match has been made up between Challenge, entered by Mr. Arker, and Sallie-come-up, entered by Mr. Dennison, for $100 a side. The contest is to come off to-morrow afternoon at two o'clock, over the Multnomah Trotting Course.

GOING INTO ECSTASIES.—The Carson Post thus goes off on witnessing for the first time a new fashion of coat now worn by the ladies:

We saw it! Saw what? Why, the little, delicate, darling, dangling, delicious, delightful imitation of a coat which the ladies have introduced into their captivating system of fashion. Yes, we saw it, and what a pretty thing! It has two tails! It fits beautifully snug, and has two pockets behind, for [illegible] and [illegible]. Oh, that we are [illegible] a [illegible] [illegible]!

GEN. LONGSTREET.—A letter from the South to the London Times says:

I am sorry to say that poor Longstreet is still suffering greatly. The ball went in at the base of his throat just below Adam's apple, and left its way out through the right shoulder, just below the clavicle. As it passed out it cut the nerves of sensation and motion of the arm. The arm still remains paralyzed as far as motion is concerned, but the nerves of sensation are somehow involved in the cicatrix, and are morbidly and acutely sensitive and irritable. He takes ounces of morphine and is greatly reduced, but I fear his pain remains as great as ever.

A London letter in the Tribune says it is broadly reported there in financial and political circles that half the rebel debt is held in England, and that if it is not paid eventually, half of the British money-bags will collapse. This is the secret of John Bull's adherence to the Confederacy.

There is a weekly paper published in Hartford, Conn., which suspends publication once in every three or four weeks on account of the high price of paper. The editor says his patrons prefer this to an increase in the price of subscription.

DR. HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS
As an invigorant and restorative, immediate in its beneficial action and permanent in its effect. It tones the stomach, improves the appetite, and acts like a charm upon the spirits. Sold by all Druggists and dealers everywhere. nov12daw

"A Slight Cold," Coughs.—Few are aware of the importance of Checking a Cough or "slight cold" in its first stage; that which in the beginning would yield to a mild remedy, if neglected, soon attacks the lungs. "Brown's Bronchial Troches" give sure and almost immediate relief. Military Officers and Soldiers should have them, as they can be carried in the pocket and taken as occasion requires.

Le Doyen's Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock AND IODINE ALTERATIVE is the only remedy for invigorating a debilitated and broken down constitution.—Persons of scrofulous habit, suffering from impure blood, nervous trembling, impaired digestion, liver disease, lost vitality, should give this great blood purifier a trial. LE DOYEN'S
SARSAPARILLA, YELLOW DOCK
—AND—
IODINE ALTERATIVE
FOR THE
CONSTITUTION.
CLEANSE THE BLOOD.
WITH corrupt, disordered or vitiated Blood, you must be sick all over. It may burst out in pimples or sores, or in some active disease, or it may merely keep you listless, depressed and good for nothing. But you cannot have good health while your blood is impure. Sarsaparilla purges out these impurities and stimulates the organs of life into vigorous action, restoring the health and repelling disease. Hence it rapidly cures a variety of complaints which are caused by impurities of the blood, such as Scrofula or King's Evil, Tumors, Ulcers, Sores, Eruptions, Pimples, Blotches, Boils, St. Anthony's Fire, Rose or Erysipelas, Tetter or Salt Rheum, Scald Head, Ring Worm, Cancer or Cancerous Tumors, Sore Eyes, Female Diseases, such as Retention, Irregularity, Suppression, Whites, Sterility, Syphilis or Venereal Diseases, Liver Complaints and Heart Diseases.
Blood and Liver.
This valuable Medicine is now available to the public for the cure of SCROFULA, CONSUMPTION, RHEUMATISM, CANCER, HEART, LIVER AND KIDNEY DISEASES, NEURALGIA, NERVOUS AFFECTIONS, BRONCHITIS, DYSPEPSIA, &c.
AS A TONIC,
Its operations are evinced by strengthening the digestive organs and increasing the appetite. In cases of Dyspepsia, Emaciation and Debility, an increased nutrition of the body is the result of the employment of Iodine. The patient recovers flesh, strength and color; hitherto pale, relaxed and feeble, he becomes full, strong and florid. Are you sick, feeble and complaining? Are you out of order, with your system deranged and your feelings uncomfortable? These symptoms are often the prelude to serious illness. Some fit of sickness is creeping over you, and should be averted by a timely use of the right remedy. Take Le Doyen's Sarsaparilla, and cleanse out the disordered system—purify the blood, and let the fluids move on unobstructed in health again.
AS A LITHONTRIPTIC,
It has no equal; being chemically combined with Iodine, it possesses in a high degree the power of dissolving Stone in the Bladder, and irritation of the kidneys, preventing gravel formation and enlargement of the prostrate glands, irritation of the neck of the bladder, dropsy, etc.

Cure Your Cold, Save Your Lungs.
NEWELL'S
PULMONARY SYRUP
HAS CURED THOUSANDS!
And it will Cure You!
"A Cough is generally the effect of a Cold, which has either been improperly treated or entirely neglected. When it proves obstinate there is Always reason to fear the consequences, as this shows a weak state of the lungs, and is often the forerunner of Consumption.—Buchanan's Domestic Medicine.
STOP THAT COUGHING!
Some of you can't, and we pity you. You have tried every remedy but the one destined, by its intrinsic merit, to supersede all similar preparations. It is not surprising you should be reluctant to try something else after the many experiments you have made of trashy compounds foisted on the public as a certain cure: but
Pulmonary Syrup!
Is really the VERY BEST remedy ever compounded for the cure of Coughs, Colds, Sore Throat, Asthma, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis and Consumption. Thousands of people in California and Oregon have been already benefited by its surprising curative powers.
WHAT KILLED HIM?
Dr. Hall, in his "Journal of Health," speaking of the death of Washington Irving, asks the above question, and adds: "He might have remained with us for some years to come, had it not been for advice, kindly intended, no doubt, but given in thoughtlessness and reckless ignorance."
He Had a Cold!
Which, by some injudicious prescription, had been converted into asthma." Let me say to Dr. Hall that that "prescription" was not
PULMONARY
SYRUP.
KEEP IT IN THE HOUSE, use it freely, give it to your children upon the slightest indications of a Cold, and you will think and speak of it as all do who have become acquainted with its merits.

A Greenback Case!
HAVING BEEN COMPELLED TO ACCEPT OF Legal Tender Notes at par since the 17th day of December, 1862, for the rent of my handsome Brick Store, corner of Morrison and Front Streets, I feel compelled to announce for the benefit of the public at large, that
Jacob Mayer
Leased the building of me on the 17th day of February, 1862, for a term of years, at which time there was no such currency in vogue, and it was understood the terms were CASH. Since the date above stated I have received the depreciated currency regularly under protest for the rent of the making less than two-fifths of the real amount said Mayer was to pay. He has leased the building at very advantageous rates, and even were he now to comply with his contract, and pay in COIN, would be getting the best bargain in the city. I make this statement to show the public what kind of a man he must be to take such undue advantage of the times to invest a few dollars to himself by LEGAL SWINDLING. The public can readily see what it costs to have such tenants. G. W. VAUGHN.
CITY OF PARIS STORE,

Snowballing.

The soft, [illegible] of [illegible] fleeces
Is straying [illegible]
And the wind [illegible] silken meshes
Is running [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
As she stands [illegible] in the milk-white drifts,
Pelting me with the snow.

She tosses the [illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]
She [illegible] little [illegible] hands,
[illegible]
[illegible]
[illegible]

Her white wool mittens are but [illegible] the snow,
[illegible]
And her [illegible]
Coiled up like a [illegible] snake;
All about [illegible]
Have printed the crown snow;
And I know by them where [illegible]
The prettiest flowers will grow.

She laughs as [illegible] when my snowballs fly
[illegible] over her head,
And she flirts her curls in a saucy way,
And [illegible]
She calls me a sorry marksman,
Awkward fellow—and still
The sly little witch knows well enough
It isn't for lack of skill.

She knows that I would sooner think
Of tearing a butterfly's wing,
Or hurting a lily, or the [illegible]
The first sweet foliage of spring,
Than of aiming at her in earnest,
Or hitting her if I could,
Or harming so much as a tassel
Of her little scarlet hood.

Gay, bonny little Madge! Oh, what would she do
If my heart was half as bold
As the crystals which fall on her lips and her hair
Like pearls among rubies and gold?
Will her girlishness and her willfulness trample my love
As her light foot have trampled the snow?
That the missiles she flings, which are free to my face,
Are fire to my heart, does she know?

Sweet tease! does she guess, I am wondering now,
Whether she'll ever be,
In the long, long future before us both,
Anything more to me
Than a little hoyden, with wild, gold hair,
And rose-red cheeks in a glow,
Who stands, ankle-deep, in the milk-white drifts,
Pelting me with the snow!

Items.

A piece of land was lately sold in London, in Broad street, at the rate of $1,500 per foot.

Boggs says the Confederacy may or may not be on its last legs, but it is certain that it has lost the use of a Foote.

An orange tree in a vineyard of E. N. Bagley, near Folsom, Cal., which is 16 feet high, has on it a crop of about 400 oranges. It blooms and blossoms through the entire summer and fall.

Cornelius O'Dowd, who is making his mark in Blackwood, tells a story in the last number of an Irishman, bound over to keep the peace against all her Majesty's subjects, explaining: "Then heaven help the first foreigner I meet."

The Emperor Maximilian is slowly gathering about him a foreign legation. The Hon. Peter Scarlett has been sent on a mission to Mexico from England. King Leopold, of Belgium, has ordered Mr. Blondel Coulebront, Belgian Envoy to the United States, to proceed to Mexico on a special mission.

In the trial of Copperhead conspirators at Indianapolis, a daughter of Rev. Richard Curran Williams testified that he would as soon have her marry a negro as an abolitionist, and that he drove her out of the house and then choked her, because she persisted in marrying a Union man, or Republican.

In a few days, says the Alta, some 14,000 pounds of auriferous quartz from the Ada Elmore, Confederate Star, and other claims in South Boise, will be shipped from this port to the Eastern States and Swansea, where it will be thoroughly tested and subjected to such processes as will satisfy the most incredulous of its exceeding richness.

The Richmond papers do not appear to entertain a very exalted opinion of the services rendered the bogus Confederacy by their Northern Copperhead allies. The Enquirer, of Dec. 3d, speaking of the villains who fired the New York hotels, says "they are a set of cowardly sneaks who have abandoned their country," and hopes General Dix will "hang every mother's son of them."—Appeal.

A Singular Development.—The Eastern papers are circulating with accumulating evidence of truth, a singular story, to the effect that the rebel States, by secret pre-concert, had their Legislatures convened on the 8th of November, and each of them chose its quota of Presidential Electors, as though they had never assumed to secede from the Union. These Electors, in case their aggregate vote would suffice to give McClellan a majority over Lincoln, were to assemble on the first Wednesday of December, and formally cast their votes for McClellan and Pendleton, sending them on to Washington in due form, and backing them by delegations to either House, should that be deemed essential. Then, when the day arrived for officially counting the votes and declaring the result, the entire opposition of all shades was to insist that McClellan and Pendleton were duly elected, and, if this was not conceded, break up the session in a row, and inaugurate a civil war from one end of the country to the other, the present rebellion merging itself into the newer and more favorable—Jeff Davis, Lee and Beauregard becoming alike Lieutenants of McClellan! That some such movement was anticipated by Northern Copperheads is quite probable. Mysterious assertions, to the effect that Lincoln, if elected by the North, would never be inaugurated, were frequently made by the supporters of McClellan during the canvass, and in the letter of the Copperhead delegate to the Chicago Convention from California, published by the loyal press of that State, this Southern programme was accurately foreshadowed. But the scheme was thwarted by the unanimity of the North. The loyal triumph was overwhelming. Add to the twenty-one votes carried by McClellan the entire electoral strength of the States in rebellion, and Lincoln would be elected by a majority of 114 votes in the Electoral College. When the secret history of the rebellion is written, we may learn something further of this brilliant Southern failure.

Under Lake Michigan.—The City of Chicago is tunnelling under Lake Michigan in order to secure a supply of fresh water. A correspondent of the Boston Commonwealth thus describes the tunnel now in process of construction:

I put on an oilskin coat this afternoon, got into a sort of a tub, held on very hard to an iron bar, (though I knew it would not be of the slightest use to do so,) was let down into our great Lake tunnel and went in under Lake Michigan as far as it is done, that is about 600 feet. This tunnel is to burrow under the lake two miles, out to where the water is deep, clear and cool in all weathers. There a vast structure of wood and iron, weighted with stone and with three tiers of flood-gates, to let in the water, is to be put down to meet the tunnel; and in this way we are to be supplied with pure water when the work is done. So far the work is entirely successful. It is driven through a vast bed of strong, compact blue clay, through which not one drop of water has come, though they struck fire once and came near being burnt up. The clay is cut with a tool like a carpenter's adze, and the arch (two bricks thick and each brick inspected three times) is then laid as the clay is cut out. It is a noble piece of work so far, and has brought out some curious hints of old times; as, for instance, great rolled boulders are found buried under sixty-five feet of clay, and stones with the unmistakable placer groove in them at the same depth, and stones that yield petroleum, and stones of which no other specimens have been found between the Alleghanies and the Rocky Mountains; and iron pyrites with a goldy fascination about them, and gypsum and curious hints of all sorts, for those who love to read "sermons in stones."

A Keen Answer.—A St. Louis correspondent relates the following:

A loafing Federal officer had been in the habit of sitting on the stone steps of the Planters' House. A news boy came along, crying: "A Victory!" The officer bought a paper, and having glanced over it, said: "A victory, did you say? I don't see it." To this the boy, getting out of the way, replied: "No, you don't see it; and you never will see it, so long as you sit hatching on the rock."

The joke got out, and the officer had to conclude his furlough and leave the Planter's House.

American Hate of England—Its Cause.—The British press affect to regard American hostility to England as a chronic symptom [illegible] and [illegible] with as [illegible] the ill-nature of a confirmed dyspeptic. [illegible] London Times [illegible] Mr. Lane in the following [illegible]:

"As regards [illegible] we may [illegible] as wild sites; [illegible] lying and [illegible] national way of [illegible] may not unreasonably [illegible] repent the expenditure."

It is probably useless [illegible] that he is [illegible] to its faults and [illegible] that [illegible] the existing war our [illegible] looked upon England as [illegible] might find in the conduct of England towards [illegible] abundant and good reason [illegible] feeling of national [illegible] present [illegible] with British [illegible] and [illegible] with her policy of letting loose rebel [illegible] British ships with British crews and British guns [illegible] drive our commerce from the seas, [illegible] credits to British markets. We allude to the [illegible] active silence to the tremendous exertions made by the ruling classes of England to sustain the [illegible] holders' rebellion by moral support and material contributions. But the day must surely come when England will find she has fallen into a fearful error if she mistakes for pusillanimity the [illegible] of a people just risen to consciousness of their power. "Pay-day surely comes at last," is a sound a maxim in the dealings of nations as of individuals. Our reckoning is only [illegible]; and the fewer insults of the [illegible] Sir Henry de Houghton [illegible] that are imposed upon us in the meantime, the better will it [illegible] the future peace and harmony of mankind.—Voice of the Rebellion.

The New Gold Bill.—The Gold Bill introduced in Congress by Thad. Stevens, says the Sacramento Bee, is not alone aimed at the Bulls and Bears of Wall street. It is, as well, intended as a crusher-out of the Specific Contract Acts of California, Oregon and Nevada. The following sections read:

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted, That a dollar note issued by the Government of the United States and declared to be lawful money and a legal tender is declared to be of equal value for all purposes as the gold or silver coin of like denomination; and every multiple or fraction of a legal tender dollar shall be of equal value with like multiples or fractions of coin for all purposes whatsoever.

Sec. 3. And be it further enacted, That when a contract has been or shall be made payable in coin, bullion or other commodity, it shall be deemed and adjudged to be payable in any notes or bills of the United States which Congress has or shall declare to be the lawful money and a legal tender; and no difference in rate or value shall be allowed between coin and legal tender money.

The effect of the bill, should it become a law, will be to drive specie wholly out of circulation in all parts of the United States until after the close of the war, and the paper issue shall begin to be rapidly absorbed in the payment of taxes, and they are consequently increased in value.

Making Money in the Calico Trade.—A Dutchman, who has been trying to make money by selling dry goods, gives the following account of his progress:

He commenced business with ten pieces of calico on his shelves, when prices began to advance. He sold out at the old rates, and, said he, "when I went to the city to buy more, the money dat I got for my calico only bought eight pieces. I took my eight pieces home, and marked a high price on them, and sold them fast enough, and when dey was all gone, I went to the city, and by tunder it brought me only six pieces! Well, dinks I, dis is making money backwards. But I took my six pieces home, and put an awful big profit on dem, and now, dinks I, I must make money like smoke. But when I got dem six pieces sold, I took du money I got to de city, and thought I would get about twelve pieces, but the calicoes had gone up again, and I got only four pieces. Well, I took dem home, and I put on a much bigger profit as I did before, and dinks now I makes a heap of money. But when I got dem sold, and went after more, the calicoes had gone up again. I hope I may never die if I got no more as two pieces for my money! So here I was. I had ten pieces of calico when I started out to sell dem, and here I am mit only two pieces and no money."

Gormandizers.—A man has just died in Paris of insatiate hunger. He could not eat enough. His earnings being altogether insufficient to satisfy his enormous appetite, though he ate scarcely anything but bread, his fellow workmen used to contribute towards his support; but, wearied with thus burdening his friends, and worn out by his sufferings, he at last hung himself. The annals of medicine afford many instances of this disease both in ancient and modern times, but the most remarkable case of late years was that of Annie Dennise, who died in Paris only a few years since. She used to eat from twenty-four to thirty pounds a day. When on her death-bed and unable to take food, she begged her sister to come and eat near her, and her last words were: "Since it pleases God that I shall eat no more, let me at least have the pleasure of seeing you eat."

Printers and Doctors.—An Eastern paper very justly comments on newspaper and medical credits: "It is a notorious fact that doctor's bills and newspaper bills are the last accounts in the sum of almost every man's indebtedness which he thinks of paying. Whatever may be his ability to pay, no difference if the chest is filled with old rusty dollars, he thinks some indefinite time will do to settle the aforesaid accounts. People somehow have a traditionary notion that the practice of physic and publishing of newspapers are more amateur professions, followed for amusement's sake, and for the cost of which little or nothing is expected. Yet there is not in the whole round of business, as far as we know, a more expensive employment than that of publishing a newspaper."

Tragedy and Fun.—The manager of a Berlin theater got up lately a drama in which a human head was to be offered to a tyrant. In order to produce as much effect as possible, he resolved to use a human head. On a stage was placed a table covered with a cloth, on the table was a basin, and an actor concealed under the cloth, poked up his head through a hole in the table so as to seem to be placed in the basin. The effect was prodigious, the audience applauded and trembled. Unluckily a wag, who was behind the scenes, sprinkled some snuff on the basin, and just as the tyrant finished his address to the severed head of the enemy, the head replied by a hearty fit of sneezing, changing the audience from "grave to gay" with remarkable expedition.

When Daniel Webster and his brother Ezekiel were together, they had frequent literary disputes, and on one occasion, after they had retired to bed, they entered into a squabble about a certain passage in one of their school-books, and having risen to examine some of the authorities in their possession, they set their bedclothes on fire, and nearly burned their father's dwelling. On being questioned the next morning in regard to the accident, Daniel remarked that they were in pursuit of light, but got more than they wanted. Dan's wit stuck out early.

"No one should indulge in such horrid anticipations," as the henpecked husband said when the parson told him he would be joined to his wife in another world, never to separate from her. "Parson," said he, "I hope you wont mention the circumstance again."

During the campaign of 1864, a young Northern [illegible] was standing at "support arms." [illegible] his lounge [illegible] "Why should I fire on those men?" [illegible] "They haven't [illegible]" [illegible]

"Matches! that's a likely story. Why don't you make a match? I know what you come for," exclaimed the delighted Miss, as she [illegible] the old bachelor into a corner. "You came here to kiss and hug me almost to death, but you shan't—without you are the strongest, and the Lord knows you are."

There is a [illegible]—such for instance as the dresses of young ladies, which are intended to catch sparks, raise a flame, and light up a match.

LUNG BALSAM!

The Remedy for Curing

CONSUMPTION, COUGHS, COLDS,
Asthma, Croup,

Diseases of the Throat, Bronchitis, Pains and Oppression of the Chest and Lungs, Difficult Breathing and all the Diseases of the Pulmonary Organs.

Its action is expectorant, alterative, sudorific, sedative, diaphoretic and diuretic, which renders it one of the most valuable remedies known for curing diseases of the lungs. It excites expectoration, and causes the lungs to throw off the phlegm or mucus; changes the secretions and purifies the blood; heals the irritated parts; gives strength to the digestive organs; brings the liver to its proper action, and imparts strength to the whole system. Such is the immediate and satisfactory effect, that it is WARRANTED TO BREAK UP THE MOST DISTRESSING COUGH IN A FEW HOURS TIME, if not of too long standing. IT IS WARRANTED to give entire satisfaction even in the MOST CONFIRMED CASES OF CONSUMPTION. IT IS WARRANTED NOT to produce costiveness (which is the case with most remedies), or affect the head, as it contains no opium in any form. IT IS WARRANTED to be PERFECTLY HARMLESS to the most delicate child, although it is an active and powerful remedy for restoring the system. THERE IS NO REAL NECESSITY FOR SO MANY DEATHS BY CONSUMPTION, when ALLEN'S LUNG BALSAM will prevent it, if only taken in time.

Sold by all Druggists. Price $1 per bottle.
